

Our Goal

Our goal is to be a leading and role model institute for the life/medical science by conducting cutting-edge basic and clinical researches, that will help prediction, prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of various diseases and improve the care of patients, leading to longer healthy life.

A dense field of cells, likely from a tissue section, with many nuclei glowing in a bright, cyan-blue color against a dark background. The cells vary in shape and size, and some show distinct internal structures.
